his own films and the work of directors he admires. In doing so, he reveals an artist's development over the course of his career to date, from joke writer to standup comedian to world-acclaimed filmmaker. Woody talks about the seeds of his ideas and the writing of his screenplays; about casting and acting, shooting and directing, editing and scoring. He tells how he reworks screenplays even while filming them. He describes the problems he has had casting American men, and he explains why he admires the acting of (among many others) Alan Alda, Marlon Brando, Michael Caine, John Cusack, Judy Davis, Robert De Niro, Leonardo DiCaprio, Mia Farrow, Gene Hackman, Scarlett Johansson, Julie Kavner, Liam Neeson, Jack Nicholson, Charlize Theron, Tracey Ullman, Sam Waterston, and Dianne Wiest. He places Diane Keaton second only to Judy Holliday in the pantheon of great screen comediennes. He discusses his favorite films (Citizen Kane is the lone American movie on his list of sixteen "best films ever made"; Duck Soup and Airplane! are two of his preferred "comedian's films"; Trouble in Paradise and Born Yesterday among his favorite "talking plot comedies"). He describes himself as a boy in Brooklyn enthralled by the joke-laden movies of Bob Hope and the sophisticated film stories of Manhattan. As a director, he tells us what he appreciates about Bergman, De Sica, Fellini, Welles, Kurosawa, John Huston, and Jean Renoir. "A psychologically nuanced, tough-minded portrait" of the New York filmmaker and his relationships with Mia Farrow and Soon-Yi Previn (Publishers Weekly). Writer, director, actor, humorist. Woody Allen stands as one of our era's most celebrated artists. Starting in the 1950s, Allen began crafting a larger-than-life neurotic persona that has since entertained and enlightened millions. In his films, widely thought to be autobiographical explorations of his own comic fears and fixations, Allen carefully controlled the public's view of him as a lovable scamp. But that all came crashing down the day Mia Farrow found a Polaroid on her mantle. What followed was a flurry of sensational headlines and legal battles. His relationship with Soon-Yi Previn, thirty-four years his junior and the step-daughter of his longtime girlfriend, caused shockwaves in the public's perception of the director, yet few biographers and journalists have explored what happened and why. In this, the first deep investigation of Allen's life and the events surrounding his split with Farrow, biographer Marion Meade tracks down dozens of friends, actors, neighbors, and film historians. They open up with insights and details rare in the world of wealth and celebrity. What results is a fascinating portrait of a flawed genius, as adept at constructing his own image as he is at crafting films. Rereleased and updated, this is an unauthorized biography that neither Woody Allen's fans nor his detractors will be able to put down. The revised and updated edition was reviewed in the Wall Street Journal in 2013 by Carl Rollyson, in a roundup of the five best Hollywood biographies.

While Woody Allen is generally considered to be a master of the comic genre he created, his serious films are very important in understanding his role as one of this generation's more influential filmmakers. In this work such Allen films as Annie Hall (1977), Broadway Danny Rose (1984), Crimes and Misdemeanors (1989) and Mighty Aphrodite (1995) are analyzed for the common philosophical themes they share. Gender issues, Allen's love-hate relationship with God, narcissism and moral relativism, and the use of the so-called existential dilemma are among the topics discussed. The extensive research is augmented with a rare interview with Allen.

Interprète, auteur et réalisateur hors pair, Woody Allen affiche près de cinquante films à son compteur - des comédies "slapstick" ou romantiques, des études de caractères, des thrillers... Ses grands films cultes, comme Annie Hall, Manhattan, Stardust Memories, Broadway Danny Rose ou Hannah et ses soeurs demeurent intemporelles, et ses oeuvres plus récentes, comme Minuit à Paris ou Blue Jasmine, ont remporté un succès phénoménal. Né Allan Stewart Konigsberg le 1er décembre 1935, élevé à New York, il est encore adolescent lorsqu'il perce dans le show-business en écrivant des sketches pour la télévision. Devenu humoriste, il connaît une gloire précoce avec la sortie de trois albums regroupant ses spectacles sur scène. Il s'essaye pour la première fois à l'écriture scénaristique dans les années soixante avec Quoi de neuf, pussycat ? Mécontent du résultat final, il décide d'écrire et de réaliser son prochain film, Lily la tigresse, en 1966. De ses débuts de cinéaste jusqu'à son tout dernier opus, Irrational Man, sa productivité s'avère prodigieuse : depuis le début des années soixante-dix, il réalise plus ou moins un film par an. Connu pour son indifférence face aux récompenses, il a toujours refusé de venir chercher ses Oscars en personne, lui qui a pourtant remporté de nombreux prix de mise en scène et de scénario, dont quatre Oscars, neuf Baftas, deux Golden Globes et, en 2014, le prestigieux prix Cecil B DeMille pour sa contribution au Septième Art. Dans cette rétrospective, Tom Shone détaille l'ensemble de la carrière de Woody Allen. Ses commentaires percutants s'ajoutent aux nombreuses citations d'Allen, où se retrouvent l'humour et l'autodérision du cinéaste et son regard incisif sur sa vie et son époque. Richement illustré de plus de 250 photographies, cet ouvrage est un bel hommage à l'un des grands maîtres du cinéma moderne, publié à l'occasion des 80 ans de
